Discover what you can do.

Day Program

Cook, learn, laugh, dance, and find your unique intelligence through play.

Summerhouse, our core day program, offers adventures and activities for all ages in an open framework of daily choices. A haven for student discovery, the Summerhouse day program provides myriad opportunities for learning and exploration through play, local travel, and sustained goal-oriented projects.

- Summerhouse groups of 8-10 students are paired with their own Crew member.
- Circles – morning and afternoon gatherings to share songs, present work, and play games
- Free-choice activities open throughout the day
- Sustained, goal-oriented projects
- Weekly travel days
- Morning and afternoon snacks provided

How does it work?

Our flexible drop-in schedule conveniently allows you to choose which days your child attends, so you can work around vacation plans. You purchase and use Day Passes for just the days your child attends. Passes are purchased online when you register. The more you purchase at one time, the less the cost per day.

Summer Classes

With or without attending Day Program

Build, create, innovate, and collaborate.

From Astronomy to Skateboarding – our engaging three-week classes and one-week intensives are designed to challenge our older students with engaging subjects and extended class periods to allow for deep summer learning. Some of our most beloved and inspired Sequoyah teachers will fuel summer brains through a creative approach to academia.

- Students can attend Summer Classes without attending the Summerhouse Day Program.
- Want to hang in the Summerhouse Day Program before or after class? We have just the thing for you! We offer Class Half-day Passes for just $40.
- Students provide their own snacks and lunch, unless enrolled in the Summerhouse day program (see reverse).
- Classes will fill up quickly, so visit our website and register early.

See our website or course description guide for class information.
